Brides vows to Groom:

Jeremy,

For years I've told myself, "Good things come to those who wait, Great things come to those who have the patience in knowing their day will come."

I waited my turn and today is proof that statement is true, because my day has arrived. I have been blessed with the man of my prayers. In high school I asked God to bless me with a guy that was funny, smart, knew how to use tools, has a wonderful family, and could put up with the craziness of mine, and a guy that was just like my dad. knew the day I met you and looked into those beautiful blue eyes God had answered my prayers. I want you to know that I promise to always treat this gift of love as the precious gift from heaven it is.

I promise to always love you unconditionally and beyond measure.

To always take care of your needs and love you with patience.

To always forgive and never judge and I promise to always keep our home a happy, loving, and welcoming place to return.

My prayer for us today is that our love and joy be more abundant than all the grains of sand, on all the beaches, on all the oceans, in all the world. I pray that every trial bring triumph, every sorrow bring strength and that our victories like the stars at night be too numerous to count. And that the worst of our future be the best of our past.

I pray that our family remain safe and in good health and well being and that every pathway we choose lead to that which is pure and good and lovely.

Standing here on our wedding day I want you to know that I love you more than anything and that I cherish every moment we have together and I am looking so forward to spending the rest of my life with you as my husband and best friend.

Grooms vows to Bride:

Tracy,

I love you so much and I love so many things about you.

I love how you're so adventurous and that you're not afraid to get dirty.

I love your smile and the way you laugh. I love how when we walk hand in hand your hand fits perfectly in mine.

Tracy from this day forth, I will give you all that I am, all my talent, all my time, all my efforts, and I will give my life for you. I will provide you with whatever you need and most of the things that you want.

Tracy I will be your protection, as God has placed you in my care and appointed me to be.

Because Tracy you are a gift from God. He answered my prayer a long time ago, when I asked him specifically for a girl with blue eyes and curly hair.

I didn't know if I would get what I asked for, but he promised us that if we ask and expect that is will be given.

So I did and here we stand in front of Him and our families today, becoming one, just as I asked for.
